

Mr Andrew Wilson
Harrold Calvados Society

14 February 2013

Dear Andrew,

Thank you so much for raising £500.00 towards our work. We really appreciate your support! In 2011/12 we received over £310,000 from clubs and groups which really does make a difference to the charity.

Prostate cancer is affecting more and more men, 40,000 each year in the UK at the last count. Yet, men's health has consistently suffered a legacy of neglect. We need, quite simply, to put this right.

With your help, we will be working to ensure men like Ross get the support they need now and that we find the answers for the future for a disease where there are too many unknowns, through innovative services and research.

"When I was first told I had prostate cancer by my doctor I was obviously very shocked and didn't really know what to do. But with the help of the Helpline, online forum and free information I was able to help myself to work it all out and feel a lot better about the whole situation. With this support I was able to enjoy my life again." Ross

Thank you for your support so far; I really hope you will be a part of the future with Prostate Cancer UK. Men deserve better - and together we can achieve this. If you would like any further information on the work of the charity please get in touch and we'll be happy to help

Kind regards,

Chris
